Vacancies Rise, Demand Persists

The LA North office market continues to face challenges, with overall vacancy increasing to 17.9% in Q4 2024, up from 16.0% in the same period last year. Total net absorption for the quarter was negative at -171,775 square feet, pushing year-to-date net absorption to -798,097 square feet. Despite these trends, a few submarkets, such as Warner Center (+96,262 SF) and Glendale (+196,425 SF), saw positive absorption during the quarter, signaling pockets of tenant demand.

Leasing activity, however, remains subdued, totaling just 594,403 square feet in Q4, marking a continued decline from earlier quarters. Direct asking rental rates averaged $2.94 per square foot, a slight year-over-year increase from $2.87 in Q4 2023. Premium submarkets like Burbank Media Center ($4.51) and Glendale ($3.13) continue to command higher rates, driven by demand for quality spaces.

Construction activity is muted, with just 102,000 square feet currently underway and 331,000 square feet completed year-to-date. Elevated vacancy levels, particularly in Burbank (32.7%) and Warner Center (24.2%), coupled with soft leasing momentum, indicate that market recovery may be protracted.

While the LA North office market faces headwinds, steady demand in select submarkets and competitive rental rates provide opportunities for occupiers seeking value.
